

Vermont Chains Required It's the LAW

Who: Drivers of vehicles with a Gross Vehicle Weight Rating (GVWR), or Gross Combination Weight Rating (GCWR) greater than 26,000 pounds.

What: Must chain up certain tires of your vehicle (see reverse for more details).

Where: VT Route 9 between Bennington and Wilmington.

When: During periods of inclement weather and message boards are activated.

Why: Vermont law requires chain up to ensure safe travel for all.

dmv.vermont.gov

Don't get stuck...Chain up!

Title 23 V.S.A. 1006c Chain Requirements for vehicles with weight ratings of more than 26,000 pounds

Solo Vehicle		Towing Vehicle		Trailer Type
Single drive axle	Tandem (one drive axle)	Single drive axle	Tandem (one drive axle)	Trailer	Semi-Trailer
One tire each side of drive axle	Two tires each side of drive axle	Two tires each side of drive axle	Two tires each side of drive axle	One tire front axle, one tire rear axle	One tire each side of any axle
	One tire each side of each drive axle	Two tires each side of drive axle	Two tires each side of drive axle	One tire front axle, one tire rear axle	One tire each side of any axle
				One tire front axle, one tire rear axle	One tire each side of any axle
				One tire front axle, one tire rear axle	One tire each side of any axle
				One tire front axle, one tire rear axle	One tire each side of any axle

Scan QR Code for more information including the definition of "chains".